

The International Contemporary and Modern Art Fair of The Americas

Art Palm Beach News

Happy New Year from Art Palm Beach!

Art Palm Beach is set to launch the 2025 art fair season next week, running January 22–26 at the Palm Beach County Convention Center. The show will feature more than 80 international galleries alongside curated exhibitions that reflect current dialogues in contemporary art.

Now in its third year, Art Palm Beach continues its mission of connecting artists, galleries, and collectors within Palm Beach's dynamic art ecosystem. We're pleased to offer you and a guest complimentary admission to the fair from Thursday, January 23 through Sunday, January 26 during regular show hours.

We invite you to experience our diverse special programming and engaging speaker series.

Art Palm Beach 2025 Panel Discussions & Conversations

Art Palm Beach 2025's programming schedule features focused conversations and panel discussions that examine current developments in contemporary art. In our VIP Lounge, Friday's session "The Evolving Role of Museums and Art Institutions" brings together MOCAA Workshop Directors Ivonne Ferrer and Milena Martinez Pedrosa, alongside curators Monica Jun and Ara Oshagan from Culture Nomad Seoul and Glendale Library Arts & Culture, with moderator Marisa Caichiolo.

Saturday offers three distinctive programs: "Friendship, Art and Collecting" pairs NFL veteran Greg Bell of Athletes For Life™ Foundation with artist LeRoi Johnson for an intimate dialogue on collecting. This is followed by "A Conversation with Ray Waterhouse," where the Chairman of Fine Art Brokers shares his four decades of market expertise. The day concludes with "Photorealism & Realism in American Art," featuring gallerist Ethan Cohen in conversation with hyperrealist painter Yigal Ozeri.

For complete details about each discussion and speaker information, see the full program schedule below.
